The PME Review Process

by Prof. Barbara Jaworski

Prof. Jaworski will introduce the review process practised at the International Group for the Psychology of Mathematics Education (PME) by saying a little bit about the various required parts of it. She will share the three reviews she wrote this year as examples of the process.

The discussion will then proceed to relate the said process to reviews of journal papers which are usually longer in length. This may lead to questions about theory and methodology and what is generally expected in these areas.

All are welcome!
